Calgary Power Hook-Up Offer A $24,000 a Year

Committee Will Recommend to Council That Calgary Company's New Bid on Insurance Basis be Accepted

The Calgary Power Company agreed Tuesday to give Edmonton power hook-up facilities for $24,000 a year, a reduction of $21,000 as compared to the company's original offer of $45,000 a year for standby "power insurance" service. The new proposal provides, however, that if a plant breakdown necessitates the purchase of energy from the company, the power insurance thus given Edmonton will automatically revert to the higher rate—$45,000 a year or $3,750 a month.

This plan, together with a recommendation by Ald. Walter Cleve, that to action be taken by the city to enter into any agreement with the company, will be placed before council next Monday for a decision.

IS A GAMBLE

Admon and company officials attending Tuesday's meeting of the city power committee viewed this proposal as a gamble because of the possible efficiency of the Edmonton plant during peak-load periods. If during the suggested 18-month period of the proposed two-party agreement the city is not required to buy "power" from the Calgary Power Company, the plan would cost Edmonton only $24,000 annually. On the other hand, in the event of a breakdown necessitating purchase of power from the company, the standby service would cost the original rate requested—$45,000 a year.

CALLS BY RIVAL SHRINES ASSAILED AT PARLEY

ARCHBISHOP POINTS FAULTS WITHIN CHURCH

York Deplores Resurgence Of Paganism In Modern World

EDINBURGH, Scotland, Aug. 4.—The Archbishop of York opened the second World Conference on Faith and Order last night with a plea for Christian unity in the face of "resurgence of paganism" in the world.

Four hundred delegates are taking part in the meetings here which will last for two weeks.

Citing the aim of the conference, a united Christian front, the archbishop declared one great obstacle to reaching that goal lay not among the people but among churches themselves.

RIVAL SHRINES

He drew attention to the weakness of the church in "calling men to worship at rival shrines and asked the "more understanding among Christians of deep soured traditions."

The delegates in their deliberations will discuss how best to meet the "rise of an aggressive anti-Christian movement in the past decade, the new power of the totalitarian state, and active anti-church propaganda among the youth of all nations."

The conference follows closely on the Oxford Conference on Church, Community, and State. It is expected to nominate a committee of seven to work with the Oxford conference committee of seven in the creation of a world council of churches, since the two conferences represent the two wings of the modern ecumenical (world-wide Christian) movement.

LEAD THE WAY

Delegates said they hoped the conference will succeed in eliminating theological difficulties and show the way to a world-wide church.

"They base their hope on the fact that 150 members of major Christian bodies, representing millions of Christians, have taken place since the Lausanne conference."

Why a diamond ring on Mermaid Eleanor Helen Jarrett's engagement finger suddenly supplanted the wedding ring which Band-leader Arthur Jarrett placed on her championship basketball hand four years ago was only half explained when Jarrett, at Dallas, Tex., let it be known that beautiful Eleanor had telephoned him at 5:30 in the morning asking a divorce. The diamond remained Eleanor's secret. The former Olympic basketball champion, left, in star mermaid in Billy Rose's Aqueduct at the Great Lakes Exposition in Cleveland. Jarrett, right, is playing in the Pan-American Casino at the Dallas Exposition.

Mystical King Tut Curse Has Doctor In Its Grip

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—The mystical, if not mythical, "curse of King Tut" was in operation again today.

Herbert E. Winlock, director of the Metropolitan Museum, one of the many scientists present when the outer chamber of Tut-Ankh-Amen's tomb first was entered in 1922, was in New York hospital. His physician and hospital attendants refused to name his ailment.

HE WAS SCOTTER

More than 25 deaths of those directly or indirectly connected with the tomb have been attributed to the "curse." But Winlock not only scoffed at it as superstition but sought to show his dead colleagues had died of natural causes or at natural ages.

He laughed at the ancient belief that the tomb contained the inscription: "Death shall come on swift wings to him that toucheth the tomb of the Pharaoh."

CARNARVON DIED

The tomb was entered February 17, 1923. On the following April 3, Lord Carnarvon, as leader of the expedition, died in Cairo from blood poisoning attributed to insect bite, and pneumonia.

Since then, the "death toll of the curse" has been variously put at 27 or 29. The last "curse death" was that of Dr. James M. Beckett, Egyptologist and another scoffer, who died here in December, 1935, from a disease that puzzled physicians.

OH! OH! COWES PRETTY NEARLY CALLS IN BULLS

COWES, Isle, Aug. 4.—Eyes-brows were lifted at the Royal Yacht aqueduct regatta yesterday when a woman wearing bright blue linen trousers, strutted across the exclusive club lawn.

Something of a social sensation occurred as distinguished spectators, among whom was Queen Victoria's daughter, Princess Beatrice, stared at the woman's unconventional attire.

The trouper woman, the Viscountess Hinchinbrooke, seemed unaware of the attention she was arousing, calmly taking her tea, although an agitated doorknocker approached her.

Overseen ladies regarding women's dress are most rigid at Cowes. None ever had dared appear in trousers before on the aqueduct's grounds.

PUBLISHERS AND STAFFS TO SPLIT PAPERS' PROFITS

HAVANA, Aug. 4.—Cuba's oldest newspaper, the morning "Diario de la Marina," together with the noon "Alerta" and the evening "Avance," today published plans to divide all profits of the three papers, on a half-and-half basis, between the owners and some 600 workers.

A round estimate put the amount to be divided at around $300,000 yearly, each employee to continue present hours and wages and to receive a pro-rated share in profits at a home.

Dr. Jose I. Rivero, principal owner and active head of the 16-year-old publishing enterprise, stated the plan was a frank effort to apply the egalitarianism doctrine of "Buenos Novanos" and "Quodagesimo Anno" papal encyclicals to his dealings with his employees.

Sisters In Custody On Suspicion As Abductors

WELLAND, Ont., Aug. 4.—Two Buffalo women are in Welland county jail following an alleged attempted abduction and a shooting on Long Beach yesterday afternoon. Long Beach is on Lake Erie near Port Colborne.

Miss Hilda MacMurtry and Mrs. B. Ducker, both of Buffalo, were arrested. They are sisters — of Mrs. Winifred Medford, Buffalo, whose husband, Clifford Medford, is residing at Long Beach.

The women are alleged to have come to Long Beach and attempted to abduct Eben Medford, nine-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Medford. The boy is said to have resisted and run away.

Medford attempted to stop the automobile in which Mrs. MacMurtry and Mrs. Ducker were riding and finally dislodged it by shooting a shotgun through the radiator.

Medford's name was charged of abduction against the two. They were arraigned before J. M. Matthews, J.P. of Welland and remanded a week. Bail was set at $500 each on $1,000 property bond in each case.

The middle of May is usually considered the approved time to plant potatoes in Jasper.

Howdy Folks!
Now it can be told, Edinburgh made a big splash in presenting the keys of the city to King George and Queen Elizabeth on their recent visit. But before the ceremony, it transpired, that the Scots changed the jocks.

And here have Berrie, the Sheik of Picardy, who waits until he is bidding and night, the story of Co-Eds' jiving with their wains and aunts and then almost paid as Lord Desmond.

An Arcadia, Calif. project to make a hydroelectric dam brings up the old question of whether it's the heat or the humidity.

That medical convention a few weeks ago overlooked one big proper, but a customer who drops a plate of string beans in a cafeteria.

Which reminds me of the etiquette query from Florence at Stony Hill? I might express to know the proper thing to do when one drops a hunk of strawberry shortcake in the lap of one's hostess.

Well, Florence, I know the words but this paper goes into the homes, you must remember.

Of course there's lots of gas and last week we have referred your question to the social editor. I might express a purely personal opinion. I too, have always thought it would save a lot of time if parties were to start over the kitchen sink and instead of waiting two hours to get there.

As for the other question, Emily Post turns us to be very careful in bidding and night, the story of Co-Eds' jiving with their wains and aunts and then almost paid as Lord Desmond.

Deb collecting cash under the table is a profession of a profession. The U.S. Labor Relations Commission has decided.

No, a pursuit, it may be a better name or maybe a calling.

Famous Last Words: "If you would come over some night and see my new play 'The Robin's Return,' really it would be a revelation to you, Mr. Barford."

During Tuesday night, however, the mercury will drop to 66 above at 4 a.m., and some rapid climbing will be necessary to get it above by 9 a.m. Temperature in the city will be 71 above at 9 a.m., the reading at 7 p.m. being 79 above, but by 9 p.m. will be 74 above.

FINANCIAL LEAD FOR SUMMER SCHOOL ASKED

Students Make Recommendations Regarding Future School Terms
About 150 University Summer school students attended a meeting in room 145 of the Arts building Tuesday night to discuss problems and make recommendations with regard to future summer school terms.

One of the chief recommendations was a resolution asking the university to make the rate during the winter for the purpose of giving income to the summer school courses. It was also recommended that the A.T.A. official magazine of the Alberta Teachers' Alliance, devote two or three pages every month to the summer school courses.

Another resolution requested that summer school be specially funded, like the winter session, by a grant of money from the government, as it was felt that it was unfair to expect it to finance itself.

At the conclusion of the meeting was Raymond Smith, Dean of the Faculty of Arts and Sciences at the university, and head of the summer school, who presided and acted as "chief questioner."

Looking Them Over

By Jack Kelly
Horses Check In Film Them
Cold Lake Trip

THE finest horse flesh in western Canada—something like 30 car loads of it—is now parked in the stables at the Exhibition track here preparing for the fall race which will open on August 11 and run for seven days. Until Thursday or Friday the animals will be rented and then regular daily workouts will get underway. Condition books from the first three days of the Edmonton meet were delivered Tuesday afternoon and today there is a massing of heads and wrinkling of brows around the stables as the horsemen pick spots for their various animals to enter.

This is one of the major problems of racing—one that the general public knows little about. The condition books list the various races with the conditions governing each. If a horse does not pick the right events for each of his horses he is likely to find himself on a hamburger diet.

With equipment being installed for high speed photo of all finishes, there will not be an argument this time when there is a whicker finish. The camera will produce the proof of how they finished within three minutes from the time the flag flutters over the finish line. One of the interesting items in this camera contraption is that since it has been used there has been an amazing increase in the number of dead heats.

The explanation is that there were just as many dead heats before the advent of this sky eye, but human eyes failed to detect the fact. Few people have eyes that are fast enough to determine that two thundering horses flash across a line at exactly the same fraction of a second.

Since camera towers have now been erected at the principal tracks in western Canada and since they command an excellent view of the entire track, it strikes me it would be a smart idea to also install a movie camera in the tower with telephoto lenses. This would be trained on each horse from the time they entered the starting chute until the race was over. Then if any charge of monkey business at the barrier, or during the race, arose it could be definitely settled by screening the film. The majority of horsemen would find this film a much greater protection than a photo of the finish. It would also serve to discourage a lot of tricks that are pulled off now and then. Compared to the benefits of such films, the cost would be trivial.

Copper Line For Lake Whoppers

PROBABLY no lake in the world produces finer trout than our own Cold Lake. In June, clear waters are ice-cold throughout the summer and filled with red fish that put up a battle comparable to that of some of the deep sea game fish. However, in order to reach these trout, you often have to get your baited hook down as much as 130 feet. With heavy line, this sinking requires lead weights up to as much as six pounds.

When a lake trout takes a hook with that much weight on it, he can't put up much of a fight and the man at the other end of the line loses the fun of a stirring battle. The solution to the problem seems to have been found in a copper line that has been tried with complete success. This line will sink to the required depth with its own weight in a few minutes, yet it is light enough to permit the trout to put up a running fight.

Two city sportsmen, Dr. Nichols and W. A. Thomson recently tried out this copper line at Cold Lake and are highly enthusiastic about it. They got two beauties that weighed 16 pounds each and a number that tipped the scales at better than 10 pounds. They were able to get the hook down 130 feet without the use of weights.

MURCELL ENTERS EIGHTS IN TENNIS

Maybe This Scowl Won't Fizz On Dreamy Joe

The Muscle . . .

The Fighting Face . . .

Are Tommy Farr's

At his Long Branch, N.J., camp where he is training for his fight against Joe Louis for the world heavyweight championship on August 28, the invading British boxer, Tommy Farr, is pictured. The graphic photograph in the centre shows the Englishman's fighting face in a grilling close-up, and indicates that in the 225 lb. battles he has fought, he has gathered some of the marks of his trade. At the left he looms up his muscle, while at the right Tommy is digging out the might he wants for a sparring session. Farr at least believes that he will down the Brown Bomber when they meet in title combat.

Klymok Hurls South Side Miners to 7-1 Win Over Nats and League Lead

Young Starky Pitcher Limits Home Furnishers to Four Hits—Miners Get Three Doubles, One Triple In 9 Hits

Home Furnishers	4	4	.500

Next Game: Starky Miners vs Army and Navy, Thursday, Redford Park, 6:30 p.m.

The South Side Miners had too much hitting power in spurts for the National Home Furnishers yesterday at Redford Park and romped away with a 7-1 victory. The game was a scintillating encounter of the Senior League.

As a result, the Furnishers were tied night back into the cellar slot in a tie with North Edmonton, while the Starky Miners graduated into a deadlock for first place with the Army and Navy Cardinals.

FOUR SUPPORT While Al Grastick, given poor fielding support, was yielding nine runs, the Furnishers were waving fruitlessly at the spirals of young Klymok, who only allowed four hits in eight innings.

Dave Fenn, veteran third baseman with the Miners, led his team's offense with three hits in four innings, one of them good for three bases. Klymok did his own damage good by hanging out two hits. Berdes Fenn's triple, Jim Kelly's January Lagni and Brother Fred collected doubles.

The Furnishers' second out in the second, here in the third and another in the sixth, their big hit was the first. Fenn's triple, the three-run spritzer with his triple and he was suddenly followed by Jim Kelly and John Lagni, both of whom hit doubles.

On all the Nationals' runs, the Miners' offense was in the lead. Lagni, both of whom hit doubles, and Klymok always had BUNCH BINGLES.

TRACK, FIELD MEET BOOKED TABER SEPT. 6

The annual official senior division boys track and field meet for Alberta is announced to be held at Taber on Labor Day, September 6, and on the same date an open meet for juniors.

In connection with the same program there has been provision made for the holding of the Alberta Open for girls, and further information may be obtained from Mr. Roy Foster or Miss Jeanette Lawrence in Edmonton or by writing to the Labor Day Sports committee at Taber.

There has not seemed to be a great deal of active interest taken in this branch of amateur sports locally this season, according to the British Columbia Amateur Athletic Union, but practices will be on taking place for at least the few interested at the south side athletic grounds as arranged for Monday Wednesday and Friday evenings.

Comment is also made that at this Taber meet, recommendations will be made for the Alberta Junior Open for girls, and further information may be obtained from Mr. Roy Foster or Miss Jeanette Lawrence in Edmonton or by writing to the Labor Day Sports committee at Taber.
